

My Big WHY

"Without a strong why, no plan survives a bad evening."

Willpower runs out. A real reason refuels itself. Take 30 honest minutes, phone away, TV off, and fill this in by hand. This sheet is the engine of the whole thing. Everything else is just steering.

Exercise 1: the 30-minute why

Write 5 reasons you want this. Then keep going past the obvious ones until you reach the one that actually moves you.

1

2

3

4

5

One year from now

Picture yourself at a healthy weight you have actually kept. What is different? How do you move, sleep, feel? What can you do that is hard today?

The ONE reason that hits hardest

Out of everything above, circle the one that moves you most. Write it big here. This is your anchor for the weak moments.

MY ANCHOR

The fridge note

Write it once more in your own words. Then cut along the dashed line and stick it on the fridge, somewhere you will see it every single day. Read it when you are tempted.

✂

cut here and put me on the fridge

"The why is the engine. Everything else is just steering."